

GOLF FOR GOOD.

Play Golf. Win prizes. Raise awareness.

givegolf™ is a country-wide golfing initiative that raises money for men's health, and this season is already off to a great start. Celebrities and sports stars are helping kick off this year's national charity golf program and are committed to raising money by playing golf.

The idea is simple, play golf as you usually do, anywhere, anytime across Canada from July 18th – August 18th, 2015 and have your friends and family sponsor you by hole! All participating golfers are pledging to play 100 holes of golf during this time period. Fundraisers will be awarded prizes based on the contributions of their sponsors, including one grand prize given to the golfer who has raised the most money (minimum $18,000). The golfer that plays the most holes will get a custom set of Nike Golf Clubs and some serious Nike Golf gear ($2,300 value).

This year, givegolf™ is donating funds to the Canadian Men's Health Foundation and other like-minded charities. The Canadian Men's Health Foundation is a national, non-profit organization to inspire Canadian Men to live healthier, longer lives. Monies raised are distributed by the Hive Charitable Foundation directly to Canadian Men's Health Foundation.

We've made it easy to golf for good. Do something you're already doing when you want, with who you want. It's a great excuse to get yourself out for more play. Get your family, colleagues, buddies, and friends to donate to support the Canadian Men's Health Foundation campaign. Any donation is welcome and receipts are issued for amounts over $25.
